8.2.11

Oops, too much fun in the Los Angeles sun this summer sipping mojitos and chomping on chips and salsa, or doing the ice cream over load? And now, well, the proof is in your butt?

No worries, A Newport Beach cosmetic surgeon has you covered. Just make a booty call to Dr. Semira Bayati (www.drbayati.com) who can help you unload some of the junk in the trunk.

According to Dr. Bayati, the craze here in Southern California, and even across the pond is to get the 'Pippa Butt Lift'. Once the full, booty-licious derrieres reigned supreme, but now it's small, shapely and perky backside that are considered the best asset.

“These days, it’s all about less is more,” Dr. Bayati continues. “From smaller derrieres to breast reductions, many of my patients are requesting more natural plastic surgery looks. Good plastic surgery is suppose to enhance your beauty, not like you shopped for parts.”
