

Plastic Surgeon Tells Jenna Jameson To Stop Going Under the Knife

4.14.12

Ex-porn star Jenna Jameson appeared on Bravo TV recently, chatting about the cosmetic surgery some of the stars of "The Real Housewives of Orange County" have undergone. But for many fans, the focus wasn't on the Housewives' surgical preferences, but on Jenna's appearance, says the Orange County Register.

If you haven't seen the 38-year-old recently, you might have been surprised at how surgically altered she looks. Surprisingly, the ex-porn star doesn't seem to have gotten bigger breasts after having her implants removed in 2007. She's spoken openly about that switch, but hasn't commented about how her look seems to have drastically changed in other ways.

Dr. Semira Bayati, a Newport Beach plastic surgeon, commented on recent photos of Jameson, saying "This is way too much for an already attractive girl." Cosmetic dermatologist Dr. Vincent Afsahi added "Some say that 'if a little is good then more is better.' That is not the case when it pertains to cosmetic procedures." He offered a word of advice to Jameson: "I would say stop... We have to preserve what looks natural."

What do you think? Should ex-porn star Jenna Jameson strive for an all-natural look, or do you prefer her surgically enhanced appearance?
